

WEBMARSHAL™

Web protection that goes Beyond URL Filtering

"...most organizations do not effectively filter malware from Web traffic. Estimates are that fewer than 15% of enterprises scan Web traffic for viruses."

--Leading Industry Analyst

Keeping Internet threats at bay in today's climate requires enterprises to look beyond standard URL filtering. Spyware, viruses, worms, Trojans, adware, and other unwanted or unauthorized applications are not just an email problem. These threats also infiltrate networks via web browsing, with Web 2.0 applications becoming an increasing targets for cyber criminals.

WebMarshal has been designed with scalability and central administration in mind, making it ideally suited to the enterprise market. And by securing both inbound and outbound Web activity in real-time, WebMarshal offers more protection - without the large price tag.

Most large enterprises have a combination of network firewall, proxy server and URL filter to protect and manage Web traffic.

Key Benefits of Marshal Software

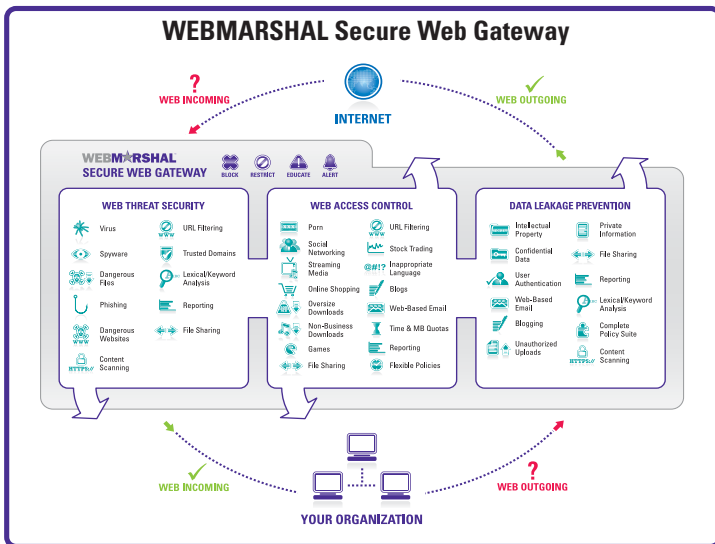

WebMarshal, a 3-in-1 Secure Web Gateway that actively scans content.

- Employee Internet Management – Manage productivity and limit liability
- Web Threat Security – Scan for malware inbound from the internet
- Data Leakage Prevention – Outbound uploading to the web, blogs and Web 2.0 applications

WebMarshal enables enterprises to apply policies for security, compliance and acceptable use to Internet activity at the gateway, providing safer Web access and a more productive work environment.

Key Features of Marshal Software

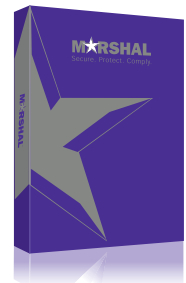

- Controls Web downloads and uploads in realtime
- Manages access to websites by content and category
- Blocks Web threats such as viruses, spyware and malicious code
- Inspects incoming Web traffic (e.g. streaming media, download file types) and manages bandwidth use
- Scrutinizes outgoing Web traffic, including files and web-based email, to secure confidential information and prevent data leakage

WEBMARSHAL™

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY.

Marshal offers a free 'try before you buy' program for WebMarshal. Please visit us on the Web at www.marshall.com and click on the Evaluation Center to download a fully functional complimentary trial.

MARSHAL™
Secure. Protect. Comply.

www.marshall.com